

Dear Parents:

Are you worried about what happens after your son or daughter leaves school?

Do you wonder if your son or daughter will ever be able to live independently?

And what about their employment potential?

Do you need help planning for success at home, in school, and beyond?

We can help!

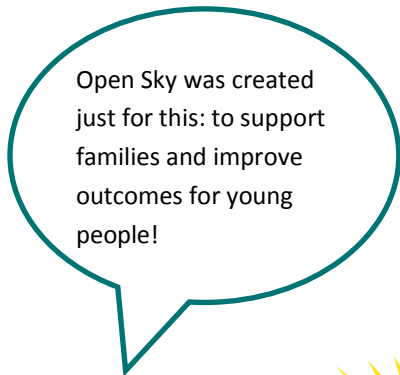

We help young people with autism spectrum disorder, developmental delays or mental health challenges, master skills to be able to move into community, residential and vocational settings.

We provide practical assessments, recommendations and consultations; comprehensive strategy development and goal-setting; step-by-step instructions to shift stuck areas; and make measurable, functional progress in independent skills and communication.

Programs are available here and/or we can come to you!

Our practitioners work with Susan Summerby-Murray, a Speech-Language Pathologist expert in identifying communication disorders and devising strategies to overcome functional disabilities. Open Sky is pleased to have her involvement with assessments and programming.

Open Sky was created just for this: to support families and improve outcomes for young people!
